Valle Crucis News.

A quiet, though joyful Easter spirit prevailed in this community during the season.

Ex-Sheriff D. F. Baird, affectionately known as 'Daddy Baird' is much improved at this writing and his many friends hope that he will be well soon.

Rev. W. R. Savage, who is much beloved in this, and all other neighborhoods in which he is known, conducted services at the Episcopal chapel Easter morning and at St. John's in the afternoon.

Miss Florence Landis, of the Industrial School Faculty, and Miss Susie Taylor went to Legerwood to spend Easter at the home of Rev. H. A. Dobbin Principal of the Patterson School.

Little Misses Alide and Lula Taylor entertained about fifty young guests at an egg hunt Saturday afternoon, after which Mrs. D. F. Mast's Sunday School class and a few other invited guests went to her home for a party. Both occasions were much enjoyed by the young people.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Mast attended the birthday celebration of Mrs. Mast's father 'Uncle Joe Mast,' of Cove Creek on the 9th, this being his eightyninth birthday.

Mrs. Dock Calloway visited friends and relatives at Balm last week.

Master Howard Mast visited his cousin's Willie and Frank Payne of Cove Creek during Easter.

Misses Nannie Smith and Olive Medford of the Industrial School Faculty went to Foscoe Monday, spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Atkins.

Mrs. Wade Wagner has returned after an absence of three weeks having been called to New Jersey owing to the death of her mother, Mrs. Marsh. The news of Mrs. Marsh's death was received with sadness by our people, as a more lovable, christian woman, has never been known in this neighborhood, she having lived at the Industrial School for two years.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Norton Atkins spent some time at the School last week, Mr. Atkins conducting services on Good Friday.

Other Valle Crucis Items.

(Deferred from last week.)

Mr. Wallace, the new man-in-charge of the Industrial Farm and Poultry plant, is giving much satisfaction and any one contemplating poultry raising on a scientific scale would do well to visit the plant and consult with Mr. Wallace, who may be correctly addressed at the Industrial School Valle Crucis.

Miss Florence Landis, of the School faculty, and Miss Susie Taylor, daughter of our esteemed townsman, Mr. C. D. Taylor, spent their Easter holiday with the Dobbins in the Yadkin Valley, Miss Landis directing the rehearsals for the Robin Hood Entertainment.

Mrs. Cicero Dyer, is rapidly recovering from a successful operation for appendicitis recently performed here by Drs. Perry and Tate. With such good surgeons at hand and a hospital at Banner Elk, why need our people take long trips away for treatment—long and expensive trips? Echo answers why?

Bishop Horner is expected in the near future for Confirmation here, and for participation in the closing exercises of the school which he has so successfully built up and which his sister, Miss Mary E. Horner, has most efficiently ruled as teacher.

SUSTAIN THE PRESIDENT.

The News and Observer.

There has been no President of the United States who has been more in earnest in his advocacy of the rule of the people than President Woodrow Wilson, and in the short period in which he has been in office he has shown that he is guided by the highest ideals, that he is deeply concerned as to the honor of this country and to its progress.

President Wilson has taken a position with regard to the Panama canal tolls which is in accordance with the time-honored principles of the Democratic party and which is in accordance with that high sense of honor in observing our pledges which ought to be taken by any and every nation. And the United States is too grand and too powerful to attempt to evade any of its responsibilities, or because it is so powerful, to browbeat other nations into compliance with it.

There is a determined onslaught being made on the position of the President as to the repeal of the tolls exemption for our coastwise vessels contained in the Panama canal act. That exemption ought to be repealed, if for no other reason than that it grants a subsidy to ship owners in contravention to the position of the party against subsidies and bounties. What then becomes the duty of the Democrats in this matter, their bounden duty if you please? It is that they sustain the President, that they back him up, with all the influence they possess.

How can this be done? The answer is very easy: They should write direct to him saying that they endorse his position, that they recognize that he is right. And they should also write to the Senators from their State, and to the Representatives from their districts urging that they support the President. That is a practical way of giving aid to the President; and either by letter or by telegram that should be done without delay. The time to act is right now.

And outside of the Democracy all people who want a square deal should give their support to the repeal. There can be no sound argument made that the people of this country should be taxed to pay many millions of dollars that vessels should go free through the canal. The people have paid for its construction and at least the ship owners should pay for its maintenance. To ask more of the people is outrageous, and they should be quick to give every support possible to President Wilson, whose course is on which is called for by honor and by business sense.

STUBBORN ANNOYING COUGH CURED.

"My husband had a cough for fifteen years and my son for eight years. Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured them, for which I am most thankful," writes Mrs. David Moor, of Saginaw, Ala. Money back if it fails. All druggists. Price 50c. and $1.00. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

Crucis, the Lees-MacRae Institute at Banner Elk, the Appalachian Training School at Boone and Skyland Institute at Blowing Rock, have done and are doing a great and noble work for the boys and girls of this mountain country, one for which the people of the mountains are profoundly grateful though their native diffidence and innate modesty may prevent their expressing the gratitude which in their warm hearts they undoubtedly feel.

Mr. J. C. Irvin, President of the First National Bank of Statesville, died at his home there on the night of the 13th. He had not been ill, though he was not very robust. He suffered an attack of indigestion and while in the act of vomiting a blood vessel was ruptured and death came instantly.

E. P. Holcombe, Chief Supervisor of the Indian Bureau, shot and killed himself in a Washington Hotel on the 13th. It is believed that he was melancholy over his physical condition, for the affairs of his office were found in perfect condition. He was a native of Virginia but his home is in Denver, Colorado, and his wife and children were there at the time. He was 50 years old.

On the 15th Dr. Augustine W. Tucker, of Virginia, and Miss Annie Webb Cheshire, daughter of the Rt. Rev. Joseph B. Cheshire, Bishop of the Diocese of Eastern North Carolina, were married in the Chapel of St. Mary's School in Raleigh. Both the bride and groom are missionaries of the Episcopal church in China, and will return to their work there in June.

A Tribute of Love.

It is with a sad heart that we note the death of Mrs. Catherine Green, wife of Mr. Hardin Green, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Triplett. She was born in the year 1885, and died March 19, 1914, at the age of 28 years, and 11 months.

She professed faith in Christ and joined the M. E. Church when a girl; living a devoted christian life until death. She was married to Mr. Hardin Green in 1908, to which union was born three children, two girls and one boy. The little girl passed away before her mother and was awaiting her coming. Her suffering was great, but she bore it with great patience. Three doctors were summoned, and everything possible was done for her relief, but to no avail, as our heavenly Father saw fit to take her home to rest. It was her request on Sunday morning before she died on Thursday, that they sing the song that her sister was heard repeating before her death "No sorrow will be there." After the song she asked her sister if she heard them singing up there? She said it was sweetly singing than they could do. Then she turned to her father and asked: "Where is Mr. Payne?" She said she would like to hear him pray once more; and at her request the minister came, and in her low, weak voice she said: "Mr. Payne, I want to hear you pray again," which he did. She would call her husband to her bed and tell him to stay with her while he could and told him to meet her in heaven.

On Thursday about noon she quietly, peacefully fell to sleep in the arms of Jesus. She leaves a husband, an infant of only seventeen days, and a son of two years; father, mother, three brothers and a host of friends, to mourn her departure.

The funeral service was conducted on Saturday, the 4th, by Rev. J. M. Payne, and in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, her body was laid to rest at Laurel Fork Church to await the resurrection. The bereft have the deepest sympathy of all.
